Realizing the American Dream

Buying vs. Renting

Trends in home prices, personal income and mortgage rates, combined with the tax advantages of home ownership make this an excellent time to turn the home of your dreams into reality. If you're thinking of buying a home, you've probably already asked yourself, "Can I afford to buy?" Another good question to ask is "Can I afford to continue renting?" No matter what you're currently paying for rent, your total cash outlay over a period of several years will probably add up to a much higher total than you may have realized. The following chart shows how quickly the rent payments you're making add up figuring in what this money would earn invested at 5 percent interest.

Rent per Month 10 years	Rent Payment 10 years	Rent Payment 20 years	Rent Payment 30 years
$400	$62,113.00	$164,413.00	$332,903.00
$500	$77,641.00	$205,517.00	$416,129.00
$600	$93,169.00	$246,620.00	$499,355.00
$700	$108,698.00	$287,724.00	$582,581.00
$800	$124,226.00	$328,827.00	$665,807.00
$900	$139,754.00	$369,930.00	$749,033.00
$1,000	$155,282.00	$411,034.00	$832,259.00
$1,100	$170,811.00	$452,137.00	$915,484.00
$1,200	$186,339.00	$493,240.00	$998,710.00
$1,500	$232,923.00	$616,551.00	$1,248,388.00
$2,000	$310,565.00	$822,067.00	$1,664,517.00
$2,500	$388,206.00	$1,027,584.00	$2,080,647.00

With the money you are currently spending on rent, you could be building equity in your home. Keep in mind, too, that over the years your income most likely will increase faster that any increase in your mortgage payment. Rent payments, on the other hand, tend to increase - right along with your paycheck.

Mortgage Rates

As a rule of thumb, a one point drop in mortgage rates means that half a million more families can qualify for affordable financing. Yours could be one of them!

Rates for conventional, 30-year fixed rate mortgages remain at historically low levels and increasingly popular alternate forms of financing may make your loan even more affordable. Your Real Estate Agent or Loan Officer can provide information on the types of financing plans available to you.

Homeowner Tax Advantages

When you're figuring out how much you can afford to commit to monthly mortgage payments, don't forget the tax advantages of home ownership. Both property taxes and interest payments on a mortgage for an owner occupied home are currently tax-deductible. In the early years of a typical mortgage, all but a small percentage of each monthly payment is used to pay off the interest on the loan. This means that as a homeowner, your annual taxable income could be substantially reduced by deducting the payments you make on property taxes and yearly mortgage interest. Ask your CPA, attorney or tax preparer how buying a home now would affect your tax situation at the next filing deadline on April 15th.

Home Value Appreciation

In addition to tax advantages, you can also benefit from any increase in the value of your home through appreciation and improvements you add for your own comfort and enjoyment.

You Can Make Home Ownership a Reality

Take a good look at your personal financial situation in comparison to housing price trends and mortgage plans available in your community. You will probably discover that you are closer to home ownership than you had realized. Buying a home is probably one of the biggest investments you'll ever make. And when it's your first home, it is especially important that you seek qualified assistance. Your local Real Estate Agent or broker has the experience and expertise to help you find - and purchase - the home of your dreams.

Selecting Your Lender

A very important part of purchasing a home is finding the right lender. Listed below are ways to choose a lender and characteristics you should look for when employing a lender.

Questions to Consider When Selecting Your Lender...

- What is his or her reputation within the community? Do they have references?
- Is the company well known in the area? How long has the company been in business?
- Is the Lender a mortgage broker? Does the Lender have access to a wide variety of loan programs?
- Can the interest rates be locked in and for how long? Is there a charge?

What NOT To Do When Looking For Your Lender...

- Do not call around asking for interest rate quotes.
- Rates quoted over the phone are rarely locked prices. This is one way the lender gets you to come into his office. Rates can be subject to change unless they are predetermined for a specific period of time.
- Interest rates can change daily. A quote you get today may not be available at the same price tomorrow.
- The interest rate you are quoted over the phone by a Lender who knows nothing about you, may not be a program that will fit your needs of qualifications.
- Do not agree to loan terms that you do not understand. A quality Loan Representative will explain rates and terms to your satisfaction.

Getting Pre-Qualified

Most Real Estate Agents and Lenders recommend that home buyers get pre-qualified before selecting a home to purchase. This way you will be prepared to preview and negotiate your home purchase with confidence.

Reasons To Get Pre-qualified...

- With pre-qualification, you can determine which loan program best fits your needs. (List of loan programs to follow)
- You will know exactly how much you are qualified for. It's no fun to find your "ideal home" and then find out you can't afford it.
- Your monthly payment can be estimated. This will allow you to outline your budget before making this important investment.
- It allows you to see what the down payment and closing costs will be.
- If you are a first time homebuyer, you may be able to qualify for a special first time homebuyer program, saving money or allowing a larger purchase price.
- Meeting with your Lender to preview your financial options prior to shopping for your new home affords you the opportunity to consider what you really want and need before the emotions of purchasing your home engage.

Chicago Title®

Reviewing Your Finances

Lenders will focus on these factors while considering your loan application:

1. Your income
2. Your savings
3. Your debts
4. Your credit history

The above items are analyzed to assess your credit risk and your ability to fulfill your commitment in paying back your loan. You may be able to ensure your Lender that you are a good risk by doing the following:

Increase Your Income

- If you're receiving an increase in salary, ask your employer to verify this.
- Convince your employer to increase your monthly salary in exchange for decreasing your incentive or profit sharing, as lenders will weigh salary more heavily than incentive and profit sharing.
- Consider taking a position within your company that may offer you a higher salary.
- If your spouse is unemployed, consider having your spouse find a job.

Increase Your Savings

- Reduce expenses as much as possible.
- Hold off on any major purchases.
- Plan out your monthly budget, but most importantly, stick to it.

Reduce Your Debt

- Pay-down any outstanding loans if they do not have a prepayment penalties attached.
  Remember that most loan programs require a 3% to 5% down payment and not all loans will have to be paid off.

Build a Good Credit History

- Make all your loan and credit card payments on time.
- Do not bounce any checks.
- File all your local, state, and federal tax forms and pay any applicable taxes on time.
- Correct any credit problems that you may have.

What Do You Need to Know About Escrow?

What is Escrow?

Escrow is the process by which the interests of all parties in a real estate transaction are protected, ensuring that all conditions of the sale have been met before property and money change hands.

Escrow is an independent depository wherein all funds, instructions, and documents for the purchase of your home are held, including your down payment, your Lender's funds, documents for the new loan, hazard and title insurance, inspection reports, and the grant deed from the seller. At the close of escrow, the "Escrow Holder" delivers these items to the appropriate parties, disburses the funds, and handles the associated paperwork.

What Does an Escrow Holder Do?

The Escrow Holder is a neutral third party, such as Chicago Title, that maintains the escrow account and impartially oversees the escrow process making sure all conditions of the sale are properly met.

The Escrow Holder's duties include:

- Serving as the neutral agent and the liaison between all parties involved.
- Requesting a preliminary title search to determine the status of title to the property.
- Requesting a beneficiary statement of debt or obligations are to be taken over by the buyer.
- Requesting a payoff demand from beneficiaries when the seller is paying off debts.
- Complying with the Lender's requirements as specified in their instructions to escrow.
- Securing releases of all contingencies or other conditions imposed on the escrow.
- Preparing or securing the deed and other documents related to escrow.
- Prorating taxes, interest, insurance, and rents.
- Preparing escrow instructions.
- Receiving purchase funds from the buyer.
- Receiving loan funds from buyer's lender.
- Closing the escrow pursuant to instructions supplied by the seller, buyer and lender.
- Recording the deed and any other documents.
- Disbursing funds as authorized by the instruction including charges for title insurance, recording fees, real estate commissions and loan payoffs.
- Preparing final statements for all parties involved that account for the disposition of all funds held in the escrow account.
- Requesting the Chicago Title policy.

The Escrow Process

Your escrow is created shortly after you execute the purchase agreement to sell your home. It cannot be successfully completed until all escrow instructions have been carried out and all parties have signed escrow documents. The length of escrow can range from a few days to several months, depending on the terms of the purchase agreement. On average, an escrow closes within 45 days.

Opening the Escrow

Either your Real Estate Agent or the other agent may open the escrow with Chicago Title depending on the county. As soon as you execute the sales agreement, your agent will place the initial deposit into an escrow account. At the opening of escrow, you may be asked to provide identification information such as your birth date and social security number. This information remains confidential.

The Loan Process

Unless you, the buyer are paying all cash, the next step will be for you to select a lender and apply for a mortgage loan. Your Real Estate Agent will keep escrow and the other agent informed of your loan progress. The loan(s) on the owner's property will be paid off at the close of escrow, unless you take over their existing loan(s). When your loan is approved, the loan documents will be sent to your Escrow Officer, where he/she will then prepare your escrow instructions and arrange for your signing.

Chicago Title

Closing Costs

Listed below are some typical closing costs that you, the buyer, may incur as part of your transaction. When you apply for a loan, you will receive a Good Faith Estimate of closing costs and settlement charges, along with a booklet that will explain these costs.

Appraisal:
This is a one time fee. The appraisal is made by an independent fee appraiser.

Credit Report Fee:
A one time fee that covers the cost of the credit report.

Document Preparation Fee:
There may be a separate fee that covers the preparation of the final legal papers.

Loan Discount:
A one time fee used to adjust the yield on the loan to what market conditions demand. It is often called "points."

Loan Origination Fee:
The Lender's administrative costs in processing the loan are covered by this fee.

PMI Premium:
You might be required to pay an up front fee for mortgage insurance, depending on the amount of your down payment. Lenders may also require monies be placed into a reserve account held by them.

Prepaid Interest:
Depending on the time of month your loan closes, this per diem charge may vary from a full month's interest to that of a few days. If your loan closes at the end of the month, you may pay interest for only a day or so.

Taxes and Hazard Insurance:
You may be required to reimburse the seller for property taxes, prorated depending on the month in which you close. You will also need to pay a year's hazard insurance premium up front. Also, you might be required to put a certain amount for taxes and insurance into a special reserve account held by the lender.

Title and Escrow Fees:
Generally each party is responsible for cost or fees incurred on their behalf unless otherwise negotiated. Some common exceptions include title policy and escrow fees, city and county transfer fees and real estate commissions. Please refer to your Real Estate Agent for prevailing customs in the area.

Chicago Title

The Life of an Escrow

It all begins with the offer and acceptance skillfully negotiated by the Real Estate Agents representing Buyer and Seller.

The Buyer(s)

Tenders a written offer to purchase (or accepts the Seller's counter-offer) accompanied by a good faith deposit amount.

Applies for a loan, completing all required forms and often prepaying certain fees such as credit report and appraisal reports.

Approves the preliminary title report, and any property disclosure(s), or inspection reports called for by the purchase and sale agreement.

Approves and signs the escrow instructions, new loan document and other related instruments required to complete the transaction.

Fulfills any remaining conditions specified in the contract, lender's instructions and/or the escrow instructions.

Approves any financial changes by signing amendments to the escrow instructions or contract. Deposits sufficient funds in the escrow to pay the remaining down payment and closing costs.

The Lender (when applicable)

Accepts the new loan application and other related documents from the buyers and begins the qualification process.

Orders and reviews the property appraisal, credit report, verification of employment, verification of deposit, preliminary title report and other related information.

Submits the entire package to the loan committee and/or underwriters for approval. When approved, loan conditions and title insurance requirements are established.

Informs buyers of loan approval, terms and commitment, expiration date, and provides a good faith estimate of the closing costs.

Sends the new loan documents and instructions to Chicago Title for buyer's approval and signature.

Reviews and approves the executed loan package and coordinates the loan funding with the Escrow Officer at Chicago Title.

The Escrow Officer

Receives an order for the title and escrow services for Chicago Title.

Orders the title search and examination on the subject property. Acts as the impartial "stakeholder" or depository, in fiduciary capacity, for all documents and monies required to complete the transaction, per written instructions from the principals.

With authorization from the Real Estate Agent or principal, orders demands on existing deeds of trust and liens or judgements, if any. For an assumption or subject to loan, orders the beneficiary's statement or the formal assumption package.

Reviews documents received in the escrow: Preliminary Title Report, payoff or assumption statements, new loan package, and other related instruments. Reviews the condition in the lender's instructions, including the hazard and title insurance requirements.

Prepares the escrow instruction and required documents, together with a preliminary estimate of settlement charges for the buyers in accordance with the terms of the sale.

Presents the instructions, documents, statements, loan package and other related documents to the principals for approval.

Reviews the signed instructions and documents, returns the loan package, and requests the lender's funds.

Receives the balance of funds required from the buyers and/or the proceeds of the loan from the lender.

Determines when the transaction will be in the position to close and advises the parties involved.

Assisted by title personnel, records the deed of trust and other documents required to complete the transaction with the County Recorder and orders the title insurance policies.

What is Title Insurance and Why Do You Need It?

The deed to your new home is not enough to ensure clear title; it is merely an instrument whereby the seller transfers right of ownership to you. It doesn't prove that the person described as the seller is actually the clear owner, and it does not eliminate claims or rights that others may have in the property. You cannot determine from the deed what rights, liens, or claims may be outstanding against your title.

You should be protected against any undiscovered claims that may arise in the future to threaten your title. A title insurance policy from Chicago Title Company provides this twofold protection in accordance with your instructions and within the parameters of the policy.

Although your mortgage lender will most likely have a title insurance policy for your loan with them, it only protects the lender's interest in the property, not your investment, and it decreases as the mortgage is paid off. You need an owner's title insurance policy to protect your ownership for the full amount you paid for the property.

How Does it Work?

Chicago Title conducts a thorough search and evaluation of the Public Records, looking for situations that may cloud the title to your new home, such as:

- Are all taxes and special assessments paid?
- Does anyone have special rights to the property that would limit your ownership?
- Has the death of a former owner or the filing of a will affected title to the property?
- Are there undisclosed heirs or spouses of the seller?
- Are there any lawsuits or claims recorded against the property itself, or suits or judgements filed against the seller?

What about hidden risks?

Claims that cannot be discovered by examination of the Public Records are called "hidden risks" which could arise long after you've purchased the property.

Here are just a few of the most common hidden risks that can cause a loss of title or create an encumbrance on title:

- False impersonation of the true owner of the property.
- Forged deeds, releases or wills.
- Undisclosed or missing heirs.
- Instruments executed under invalid or expired power of attorney.
- Misinterpretations of wills.
- Deeds by persons of unsound mind.
- Deeds by minors.
- Deeds by persons supposedly single, but in fact married.
- Liens for unpaid estate, inheritance, income or gift taxes.
- Fraud.

What about premiums?

Unlike most forms of insurance, you would only pay for a Chicago Title policy only once, and this relatively modest charge insures your title for as long as you or your heirs own the property.

Title Insurance:

By obtaining a Chicago Title policy, you are backed by the strength and security of the nation's largest title insurer.

What is the Preliminary Title Report?

The Preliminary Title Report is an offer to issue a policy of title insurance covering a particular estate or interest in land subject to stated exceptions.

Since these exceptions may point to potential problems with your intended purchase, it is important for all parties to review the report once it is received.

A Preliminary Title Report provides a list of the matters which will be shown as exceptions to coverage in a designated policy or policies of title insurance, if issued currently, covering a particular state or interest in land. It is designated to provide an interim, or "preliminary" response to an application for title insurance and is intended to facilitate the issuance of the designated policy or policies. It is normally prepared after application (order) for such policy(ies) of title insurance on behalf of the principals to a real property transaction, for the purpose of facilitating requirements relative to closing and policy issuance in form and content approved by those parties.

If a title policy is not contemplated, a Preliminary Title Report should not be ordered. Instead, consideration should be given to requesting a Condition of Title Report or other similar title product.

The Preliminary Title Report states on its face that it is made solely to facilitate the subsequent issuance of a title insurance policy and that the insurer assumes no liability for errors in the report. Accordingly, any claim arising from a defect in title must be made under the title policy and not the Preliminary Title Report.

After a title order has been placed, matters relative to the title policy coverage on the subject property are assembled in a title search package and examined by skilled technicians. This is when the Preliminary Title Report is prepared and sent to the customer. The report contains relevant information so that the parties to the transaction will become aware of matters which will not be insured against by the title company. This report is issued before the title policy, hence the name Preliminary Title Report.

How You Take Title...

Advantages and Limitations

Title to real property in California may be held by individuals, either in Sole Ownership or in Co-Ownership. Co-Ownership of real property occurs when title is held by two or more persons. There are several variations as to how title may be held in each type of ownership. The following brief summaries reference eight of the more common examples of Sole Ownership and Co-Ownership.

Sole Ownership

1. A Single Man/Woman
   A man or woman who is not legally married. Example: John Doe, a single man.

2. An Unmarried Man/Woman
   A man or woman, who having been married is legally divorced. Example: John Doe, an unmarried man.

3. A Married Man/Woman, as His/Her Sole and Seperate Property
   When a married man or woman wishes to acquire title in his or her name alone, the spouse must consent, by quitclaim deed or otherwise, to transfer thereby relinquishing all right, title and interest in the property. Example: John Doe, a married man, as his sole and seperate property.

Co-Ownership

4. Community Property
   The California Civil Code defines community property acquired by husband and wife, or by either. Real property conveyed to a married man or woman is presumed to be community property, unless otherwise stated. Under community property, both spouses have the right to dispose of one half of the community property. If a spouse does not exercise his/her right to dispose of one-half to someone other than his/her spouse, then the one-half will go to the surviving spouse without administration. If a spouse exercises his/her right to dispose of one-half,that half is subject to administration in the state. Example: John Doe and Mary Doe, husband and wife, as community property.

5. Joint Tenancy
   A joint tenancy state is defined in the Civil Code as follows: "A joint interest is one owned by two or more persons in equal shares, by a title created by a single will or transfer, when expressly declared in the will or transfer to be a joint tenancy." A chief characteristic of joint tenancy property is the right of survivorship. When a joint tenant dies, title to the property immediately vests in the surviving joint tenant(s). As a consequence, joint tenancy property is not subject to disposition by will. Example: John Doe and Mary Doe, husband and wife, as joint tenants.

6. Tenancy in Common
   Under tenency in common, the co-owners own undivided interests; but unlike joint tenancy, these interests need not be equal in quantity or duration, and may arise at different times. There is no right of survivorship; each tenant owns an interest which, on his or her death, vests in his or her heirs or devisees. Example: John Doe, a single man, as to an undivided 3/4ths interest, and George Smith, a single man, as to an undivided 1/4th interest, as tenants in common.

7. Trust
   Title to real property in California may be held in a title holding trust. The trust holds legal and equitable title to the real estate. The trustee holds title for the trustor/beneficiary who retains all of the management rights and responsibilities.

8. Community Property with Right of Survivorship
   Community Property of a husband and wife, when expressly declared in the transfer document to be community property with the right of survivorship, and which may be accepted in writing on the face of the document by a statement signed or initialed by the grantees, shall upon the death of one of the spouses, pass to the survivor, without administration, subject to the same procedures as property held in joint tenancy. The preceeding summaries are a few of the more common ways to take title to real property in California and are provided for informational purposes only. For a more comprehensive understanding of the legal and tax consequences, appropriate consultation is recommended. There are significant tax and legal consequences on how you hold title. We strongly suggest contacting an attorney and/or CPA for specific advice on how you should actually vest your title.

Common Ways to Hold Title

	Parties	Division of Interest	Title	Possession	Conveyance
Community Property	Only Husband and Wife	Ownership & management of property is equal	Title is in the community & each interest is separate but management is unified	Both co-owners have equal management and control	Require written consent of other spouse or actual conveyance by deed. Separate interest is devisable by will.
Community Property w/ Right of Survivorship	Only Husband & Wife should sign the acquisition deed to accept this special form of vesting title	Ownership & management of property is equal	Title is in the community subject to special survivorship right	Both co-owners have equal management and control	Require both spouses to join for valid conveyance except for security for attorney fees
Joint Tenancy	Any number of persons, can be Husband & Wife alone or with others. No corporations, no partnerships	Interests are equal and undivided. Yet each person controls his/her own interest.	Ownership is joint. Sale by one severs tenancy as to others	Equal right of possession	Conveyance by one owner severs the joint tenancy, but only as to that owner's interest
Tenancy in Common	Any number of persons and/or corporations and partnerships	Ownership can be divided into any number of interests-equal or unequal	Each co-owner has a separate legal title to his/her undivided interest	Equal right of possession	Each co-owner's interest may be conveyed separately by its owner
Partnerships	Any number of persons and/or corporations & partnerships MUST be at least two	Each partner's share is personal property in partnership entity	Ownership is by partnership entity only	Possession by partnership by managing partner(s)	Conveyance MUST be by designated general partners. All limited partners need to consent if sale is 100% of assets
Trust Arrangements	Any individual, group, partnership of corporations. Other special requirements	Ownership is a personal property interest & can be divided into any number of interests	Title is held by trustee or trustees pursuant to the trust agreement	Depends on provision in trust agreement	Designated parties in the trust instrument authorize the trustee to convey property. Also a beneficiary's interest may be sold separately (as personal property) unless restricted
Community Property Trusts	Only Husband & Wife	Property retains its character of community property	Title is held by trustee or trustees pursuant to the trust agreement	Depends on provision in trust agreement	By the trustee pursuant to the powers contained in the trust instrument

	Purchaser's Status	Effect of Death	Successors' Status	Creditor's Rights	Presumptions
Community Property	Purchaser can only acquire 100% of title of community. Both spouses must consent or convey. Cannot be a co-owner with his/her spouse	On the death of the first spouse, half interest belongs to the surviving spouse. Other half interest is devisable by will or passes by succession under probate statutes	If the first spouse's interest is devised by will or passes by succession, remaining spouse and devises or heirs hold title as tenants in common	Property of the community is liable for debts of either spouse made before or during marriage. Entire property may be sold at execution sale to satisfy debt of either spouse	Strong presumption that any property acquired by either husband or wife during marriage is community property
Community Property w/ Right of Survivorship	Purchaser can only acquire 100% of the title. Both spouses must convey. Cannot be a co-owner with his/her spouse	On the death of the first spouse, the individual half interest passes to the surviving spouse, just the same as joint tenancy. No separate interest is devisable by will.	Due to surviving right, the surviving spouse owns 100% of the title	Property of the community is liable for debts of either spouse made before of during marriage. Entire property may be sold at execution sale to satisfy debt of either spouse	Property is specifically stated in the deed to be community property with right of survivorship
Joint Tenancy	Purchaser will become a tenant in common with the other co-owners in the property as to the purchaser's interest. Other owners may remain joint tenants	Upon each owner's death, his/her interest passes to the remaining survivors by operation of law. Such interests are not devisable by will	Unless joint tenancy is broken, last surviving joint tenant owns entire property interest, which is now devisable by will	Each owner is subjected to execution sale to satisfy debt. Joint tenancy is broken. Buyer at sale (usually Creditor) becomes tenant in common with other owners	Must be expressly stated that property acquired as joint tenancy
Tenancy in Common	Purchaser will become a tenant in common with the other co-owners in the property	Each owner's interest is devisable by will or passes by succession under probate statutes. No right of survivorship	Heirs or devisee become tenants in common with other owners	Each owner's interest is subject to execution sale. Buyer at sale (usually Creditor) becomes tenant in common with other owners	When conveyance is unclear, tenancy in common is presumed, unless community property presumptions apply
Partnerships	Purchaser acquires interest that partnership owned	Partner's share in partnership is devisable by will or succession under probate statutes. May cause a dissolution of partnership dependent on terms of partnership agreement	Heirs or devisee have rights in partnership interest but not in specific property	Partnership real property only subject to execution sale by partnership creditor. If debt of individual partner, only that Partner's share (personal property) is subject to execution sale	Should be clear from conveyance that grantees have status. If not, could be found to be tenants in common
Trust Arrangements	Purchaser acquires interest held by the trustee. Beneficiary's interest may be conveyed separately (as personal property) unless restricted	Depends on terms of trust instrument. Death of trustee may terminate of convert trust to other arrangements. Successor beneficiaries may be named in the trust instrument	Depends on terms of trust instrument. Trust may terminate or other trust arrangements may be created	Creditor needs to obtain a final court order for any execution sale of the beneficial interest of an order to have specific trust property to be sold to satisfy the debt	Trust arrangement is ONLY created by written instrument. Conveyance MUST be to trustee of the trust. The trust itself is NOT a legal entity capable of holding title
Community Property Trusts	Purchaser acquires the interest held by the trustee	Trust instrument may provide for distribution on death of first spouse's half interest. May be devisable by will. Surviving spouse may elect to have his/her interest put under testamentary trust. Seek advice of counsel	Distribution depends on the terms of the trust instrument	Creditor needs to obtain final court order for execution sale to satisfy debts of either or both spouses	Property is still presumed to be community property. Status may change upon death, dissolution of marriage, revocation of the trust

How Property Taxes are Determined

Property taxes are governed by California State law and collected by the county. The County Assessor must first assess the value of your property to determine the amount of property tax.

Generally, the assessed value is the cash or market value at the time of purchase. This value increases not more that 2% per year until the property is sold or new construction is completed.

The Auditor-Controller applies the appropriate tax rates, which include the general tax levy, locally voted special taxes, and any city or district direct assessments. The Tax Collector prepares property tax bills based on the Auditor-Controller's calculations, distributes the bills, and then collects the taxes.

Chicago Title

- Can You Disagree With the Amount?
  You may apply to the County Assessor to see if the office will change the valuation on your home.

  Additionally, Appeals Boards have been established for the purpose of resolving valuation problems. Appeals on regular assessments may be filed between July 2 and September 15. Appeals on corrected assessments, escaped assessments (assessments that did not take place when they should have), or supplemental assessments must be filed no later than 60 days from the mailing date of the corrected, escaped or supplemental tax bill.

- File An Appeal But Remember To Pay The Tax.
  If you choose to appeal, still pay your tax installments in full by the appropriate deadlines or you may incur penalties. If your appeal is granted, a refund will be issued to you.

- Did You Recently Purchase Property?
  Although escrow prorates taxes and gives appropriate credit between buyer and seller, the actual taxes may not have been paid and you are responsible for any unpaid taxes at the close of escrow.

  Read your escrow papers and/or title report to determine if any portion of the annual taxes were paid by the previous owner before the close of escrow.

  The Tax Collector will not send a bill for the remainder of the year in which you acquired the property unless requested. If any taxes remain unpaid, call the Tax Collector and request a bill. When you call, give the Assessor's Identification Number.

Understanding Supplemental Property Taxes

When was the Supplemental Real Property Tax law enacted?
Governor George Deukmejaian signed the Supplemental Real Property Tax into law in July of 1983. It is expected to produce over $300 million per year in revenue to aid California's schools.

How do Supplemental Taxes affect the homeowner?
Supplemental Property Taxes only affect individuals who are buying property or initiating new construction. After the purchases or new construction is complete, the new owner will receive a bill for Supplemental Property Taxes, which will become a lien against the property as of the date of ownership changes or upon the date of completion.

When and how are the bills generated?
It's not easy to predict when the new property owner will be billed. It may be as soon as three weeks after escrow closes or the new construction is complete. It also might take six months or more, depending on what county the property is located in and the workloads of the County Assessor, County Controller/Auditor and the County Tax Collector.

The Assessor will appraise the property and advise the owner of the supplemental assessment amount. The property owner will then have the opportunity to discuss the valuation, apply for a Homeowner's Exemption and be informed of their right to file an Assessment Appeal. The Assessor then calculates the amount of the supplemental tax bill to the property owner. The bill will identify the amount of the Supplemental Tax and the date the taxes will become due and delinquent.

How will the amount of the bill be determined?
A formula is used to determine the tax bill. The total supplemental assessment will be prorated based on the number of months remaining until June 30, the end of the tax year.

The proration factor works like this: The Supplemental Tax becomes effective on the first day of the month following the month in which the change of ownership or completion on new construction actually occurred. If the effective date is July 1, then there will be no supplemental assessment of the current tax roll and the entire supplemental assessment will be made to the tax roll being prepared. If the effective date is not on July 1, the factors represent assessment on the current tax roll.

Example:
The County Auditor finds that the Supplemental Property Taxes would be $1,000 for a full year. The change of ownership took place on September 15 with the effective date being October 1. The supplemental property taxes would be subject to a proration factor of .75 and the supplemental tax would be $750.

Can the Supplemental Tax bill be paid in installments?
All supplemental taxes are payable in two equal installments. The taxes are due on the date the bill is mailed and are delinquent on specified dates depending on the month the bill is mailed as follows:

1. If the bill is mailed within the months of July through October, the first installment will become delinquent on December 10 of the same year. The second installment will become delinquent on April 10 of the next year.

2. If the bill is mailed within the months of November through June, the first installment will become delinquent on the last day of the month following the month in which the bill is mailed. The second installment shall become delinquent on the last day of the fourth quarter calendar month following the date the first installment is delinquent.

Will Supplemental Property Taxes be prorated in escrow?
Not usually. Unlike ordinary annual taxes, the Supplemental Tax is a one-time tax due for the period from the date of new ownership or completion of the new construction, until the end of the tax year on June 30. The obligation for this is entirely that of the property owner.

What is Mello-Roos in simple English please...?

Mello Roos refers to "special" tax districts. Senator Henry J. Mello and former Assemblyman Michael Roos won passage of Mello-Roos Community Facilites Act in 1982. This legislation authorized Mello-Roos Community Facilities Districts as a way to assist cities, counties and school districts to provide new infrastructure and facilities after governmental funds were cut by the passage of Proposition 13 in 1978.

Before Proposition 13, state and local governments used income collected through property taxes to build new roads, schools and other necessary community facilities. In order to continue building residential areas, these same governments were forced to require builders of new communities to pay for these public facilites. Consequently, these funds were added to the cost of homes.

These price increases hurt new home buyers as fewer people were able to afford higher-priced homes. Those who could, had to wait for the public facilites to be built.

Under Mello-Roos Community Facilities Act, landowners put up their land as collateral so that public agencies, like a school district, could raise money to pay for vital basic facilities. The public agency forms a Mello-Roos Community District that sells bonds to fund the construction of these new public facilities. A bond allows for payment over a specific amount of time through special taxes levied on property owners in that particular district. Mello-Roos taxes are paid to the County Tax Collector as part of the normal property tax system.

Not all new home communities are affected by Mello-Roos special taxes. For example, sometimes a new neighborhood is built within existing communities. Because public facilities are already in place, they are not suject to Mello-Roos taxes.

Inspections

Real Estate contracts often contain contingency clauses that allow buyers to inspect the property physically (usually at their expense). This inspection provides a comprehensive review of the infrastructure of the property.

Which inspections to order is usually a matter of observation and knowledge of what is critical to a particular region or area. Below is a list of the three most common types of inspections.

Structural Pest Control

- To discover any active infestation by wood destroying organisms.
- Section I on the report deals with active infestation and includes items that need immediate attention, lenders usually want the work performed prior to funding the loan.
- Section II on the report will be items that could cause infestation and, if not corrected, could cause damage.

Physical Inspection

- This inspection encompasses roof, plumbing, electrical, heating and any other accessible area of the structure.
- A detailed report will be written with recommendations for repair or for further inspection by a specialist.

Geological Inspection

- An inspection of the soil conditions and the stability of the ground beneath the structure can be performed by a Geological Engineer.
- You can select to go to the city records and research the property and its proximity to known fault lines.

Some Other Common Inspections

- Water Conservation
- Well and Septic
- Hazardous Materials
- Zoning and Building Permit
- Compliance
- Contractors Home Inspection
- Chimney Inspection
- Heating and Air Conditioning
- Structural Engineering
- Energy Audit

If you need it, arrange for storage.
Clean or repair furniture, curtains or carpets that need it.

Moving Expenses

When you meet the IRS's definition of a qualifying move, the following items are considered tax deductable:

- The cost of trips to look for a home in the area of a new job. Your home shopping expedition does not have to be successful for the cost to be deductible.

- The cost of having your furniture and other household items shipped, including the cost of packaging, insurance, and storage for up to 30 days.

- The cost of getting your family to the new hometown, including food an lodging expenses on the trip.

- The cost of lodging and 80% of food expenses for up to 30 days in the new hometown, if these temporary living expenses are necessary, due to the fact that you have not yet found your ideal or it is not ready when you arrive.

- Certain costs associated with the sale of your former home and purchase of the new one. These expenses, including real estate commisions, legal fees, city and/or county transfer taxes and appraisal and title fees, could be used either to reduce the gain on the sale of the previous home or to boost the basis of the new one. However, it's usually beneficial to count them as moving expenses up to the allowable dollar limits, for that gives you an immediate tax benefit.
